

Sandra Seymour

Vice President

As Vice President of The Seymour Group, Sandra heads up the Residential Division. She brings over 39 years of real estate expertise built on a solid history of experience. Her responsibilities also include transaction and escrow management.

Prior to joining Elite Properties Realty Sandra worked with major brokerages such as Prudential Realty, Fred Sands, Merrill Lynch and Coldwell Banker earning top dollar awards and designations. In addition to being in sales, she also was in management.

Professionally, Sandra has focused on two key areas...music and real estate. She has appeared in all the greatest concert venues including Carnegie Hall, and was in the first Jascha Heifetz Master Class at UCLA. Having achieved her goals in music, real estate offered her an equally challenging opportunity. She knows what it feels like to work under pressure a large percentage of the time, attending to the myriad of details in open-ing and closing escrows, dealing with and satisfying demanding clientele, and pursuing excellence on a daily basis.

“I find nothing more rewarding than negotiating on behalf of my clients.”
