

David Weinberger

Executive Vice President

David Weinberger was born and raised in the San Fernando Valley and has resided all over Los Angeles. This affords him a unique perspective and understanding of real estate trends in each area.

David has held his real estate license since 2002. His background in mortgage banking provides him a rare vantage point on the underwriting protocols necessary to finance transactions. He offers a personalized experience for his clients by addressing their specific needs and personal goals.

David offers his clients the best of both worlds: an analytical mindset to decipher real estate property metrics coupled with a warm personal touch.

David was handpicked by The Seymour Group to assist in the expansion of the fiduciary division at Keller Williams Realty. Phil Seymour knows talent when he sees it and David has become an integral part of assisting fiduciaries in the sale of all types of real estate assets.
