

Megan Husri

Vice President Of Operations

Megan Husri is the Vice President of Operations & Marketing, at The Seymour Group, and as such is responsible for managing and directing the company towards obtaining it's ultimate goals. Driven by her passion for developing new strategies and technology, Megan aims to stay at the forefront of industry trends and has found her niche to be in expanding The Seymour Group's reach and global exposure. Particularly strong in marketing, she plays a major role in the design and content for all of The Seymour Group marketing pieces.

Prior to joining The Seymour Group, Megan was the Regional Marketing & Business Development Director for Keller Williams Forward Living. There, she was responsible for overseeing 12 Keller Williams offices across the Southern California region, launching a media and a public relations division, and increasing the company's production year over year. Since the start of her executive career in 2012, she has been involved in over $12 Billion in transactions, and has successfully marketed some of LA's top producing brokers and properties.

In addition to her role at Keller Williams, Megan contributed her expertise in branding and marketing at numerous conferences and summits statewide, as well as acted as a panelist for multiple leadership seminars. Her current role as Vice President of Operations & Marketing for The Seymour Group focuses on driving the company's growth initiatives through technology and data innovations, while maximizing exposure to ensure our clients properties are marketed at the highest level.
